Happy New Year

VOLUME 37 — WINTER PARK, FLORIDA, JANUARY 4, 1933 — NUMBER 12

THE WORLD VIEWED AT ROLLINS

By EGJ

Many important world milestones were passed while we peacefully enjoyed our holidays, and many events whose apparent aspirations were to attain milestone-importance assayed to capture the attention of our festively engaged society while we prepared our own United States bowl of joyous celebration in observance of Christmas Day and in welcome to the promising New Year.

The promise of several members of the House of Representatives, among whom was notably, Speaker John Nance Garner, that beer would be approved by that body before its holiday recess was fulfilled when the 3.2% "non-intoxicating" brand of the beverage was given its official sanction just three days before the temporary adjournment.

Queerly enough, newsreel interviews with the sponsors and enemies of the bill which brought this opening wet victory, when keyed in one program with scenes of a certain Manhattan dry raid and its resulting confiscation of enormous quantities of liquor, elicited strong support for the losing cause of Prohibition. Apparently the American public feels duty-bound to bid a sporting farewell to such a movie visitor as is now being deported from the governmental statutes.

President Hoover and President-elect Roosevelt grasped the opportunity offered them by the war debt crisis to stage what has amounted to a species of private fiasco. It will be recalled that, before the recent payments from the debtor nations of Europe fell due on December 15, the President had endeavored to solicit the co-operation of his successor in determining the nation's policy in regard to the collection of the installment under consideration.

Save one extremely "informal" meeting at the White House while the Governor of the Empire State (ex-Governor since January 2) was enroute to Georgia, no apparent aid was forthcoming from his official camp, and both the Republican and the Democrat were censured for their stilted and paradoxically formal attitude. A glance at these excerpts from later telegraphic communications between the two men will illustrate how justified was this widespread criticism of their strictly "correct" behavior.

President Hoover, in the first of the four messages subsequently exchanged, expressed this view:

It is urgent that the World Economic Conference should assemble as early as possible. The United States should be represented by a strong and effective delegation . . . . I should be glad to know if you could join with me in the selection of such a delegation at the present time.

To which he received the following reply:

I seek in every proper way to be of help . . . . It would be unwise for me to accept an apparent joint responsibility with you when, as a matter of constitutional fact, I would be wholly lacking in any attendant authority.

The President, reluctant to concede failure, tried a second time:

I am unwilling to admit that co-operation cannot be established between the outgoing and incoming administrations . . . . I have no intention of committing the incoming administration.

And a second time he received a polite rebuff:

For me to accept any joint responsibility in the work of exploration might well be construed by other nations as a commitment — moral, even if not legal—as to policies and courses of action . . . . I shall be very glad if you will keep me advised . . . . I shall be happy to consult with you freely.

These communications were made public by the White House shortly following the unsuccessful close of its attempts to attain the mutual and unrestricted co-operation of the future American chief executive. Whether Mr. Hoover or Mr. Roosevelt is the better justified in his actions is a matter requiring more complete revelation

XMAS FUND GOES OVER $300 MARK

Two Hundred Dollars of Fund Is Distributed In Winter Park

With final returns reported for the Rollins Christmas Fund, the total donations received amounted to slightly over $300 in addition to a large amount of clothing and other articles which were given for the poor.

Members of the committee who sponsored the drive for funds expressed themselves more than satisfied with the success of the initial Rollins Christmas Fund, and they expressed themselves as believing that students, faculty and friends would enter into the spirit of giving each year more and more as they became more familiar with the fund and its distribution.

Jean Fullington, chairman of the chapel social service committee, with members of her committee, had charge of the division of the fund, and according to her report $200 had been disbursed and all clothing. One hundred dollars was given to the city welfare department and a like amount was presented to Hungerford School. All clothing was given to the city department.

The remaining hundred dollars is being retained to be distributed in the next few months as the poor of the city require aid and as the most needy cases require help.

Although the fund has been officially closed as far as Christmas is concerned, it will be kept alive throughout the year and students, faculty members and friends are urged to give if they have not already.

Members of the Christmas Fund committee who will receive gifts are: James H. Ottaway, chairman; Jean Fullington, Gordon Jones, Ruth Jean Bellamy and Doris Lang. Clothing and other goods may still be taken to the office in Knowles Memorial Chapel or to any of the above people. Any checks sent care of the Sandspur will be delivered to the Christmas Fund committee.

DR. CHALMERS TO TEACH AT ROLLINS

Professor Oldham Will Spend Winter In Boston

An exchange of professors of history between Boston University and Rollins College for the coming winter term is announced with Dr. Thomas Chalmers of Boston University coming to Rollins, and Cecil R. Oldham of Rollins going to Boston University.

Dr. Chalmers, one of the most prominent members of the faculty at Boston University, is a graduate of Harvard and a former student at the University of Marburg, Germany, and St. Andrew's in Scotland. Dartmouth conferred the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity upon him in 1908.

He was ordained a minister in the Congregational Church in 1894 and for the following six years held a pastorate in Port Huron, Mich. After serving as dean of Michigan Military Academy, principal of Allen Chalmers School in Newton, Mass., and president of the Pembroke, N. H., Sanitorium, Dr. Chalmers was appointed professor of history at Boston University, a chair he has filled since 1920. In 1912, he served a term in the New Hampshire State Senate.

Mr. Oldham joined the faculty of Rollins in 1929 as associate professor of history. He is a graduate of Oriel College, Oxford University, and has served as lecturer at Rangoon University, Burma, and civil service examiner to the government of Burma.

Students Spend the Holidays Excavating Near Flagler Beach

Large bones, believed to belong to some prehistoric mammal, were found this week in Flagler county muck learn by the expedition from Rollins College. They hope to unearth new discoveries where remains of bison, camel and mastodon out of an earlier period were discovered last year.

The bones were found in a bad state of preservation, and because of this they have not been removed. It will take careful manipulation to extract them. Smaller pieces of bone were taken out of the muck on December 25th and will be brought back to Rollins for microscopic examination.

The prospectors have dug up a space of about 20 square feet, at Bon Terra Estates, eight miles north of Flagler Beach. This property is owned by Ed Johnson.

Work is being done under the direction of Jack H. Connory, superviser and curator of the Thomas H. Baker Museum at Rollins, and his associates, Carrington M. Lloyd and John C. Bills.

GLEE CLUB WILL SING JANUARY 10

Rollins Male Quartet Is Also On Program

The first Glee Club concert of the year will take place in the Annie Russell Theatre on the evening of Tuesday, January 10. The program will consist mostly of folk songs, English, Russian and German, with the closely allied sailor chanteys and negro spirituals. The numbers project a great variety of moods and actions and yet belong in the same realm of experience.

The Rollins male quartet, coached by Bruce Dougherty, will also present a group of songs.

At the close of the last term the Glee Club decided to clarify its intentions and organization. Heretofore it has been too undetermined an adjunct of the music department. Discussion finally settled into a vote that anyone who wanted to sing could be a member of the club and attend the ordinary rehearsals but that two weeks before each concert the director should pick a balanced group of the better singers to represent the club in performance.

Thereby the chance to sing will be open to all regardless of vocal powers and experience. Yet the public concerts will not be weakened. This arrangement avoids the rigid selection of most glee clubs, which soon lose their relation to campus life in general, and offers training and pleasure for those who are on the singing fringe.

The new scheme has already gone into action and the group for the first concert is at work to make this program worth hearing. Rehearsals take place every night this week at 7:15 in the Conservatory.

After the concert the general Thursday rehearsals will be resumed and new music introduced. New members should appear at that time.

Symphony Orchestra Will Hold Rehearsal; Clemens to Conduct

There will be a full rehearsal of the Winter Park Symphony Orchestra at the Woman's Club in Winter Park on Wednesday evening, January 4th, at eight o'clock. This is the first rehearsal to be held after the Christmas holidays and the time will be devoted to music which is being prepared for the next public concert, to be given Sunday afternoon, January 15th, under the management of Miss Mary Leonard. Harve Clemens, chairman of the faculty of the Rollins Conservatory of Music, is conductor.

WORLD FLASHES

FROM THE UNITED PRESS

Lakehurst, N. J., Jan. 4 (UP)—U. S. S. Akron was sailing southward today enroute to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, via Miami, Fla., with the new commander, Frank McCord, in charge. It is scheduled to reach Miami late today. Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of Naval Aeronautics, and Commander Farland Fulton, assistant chief, were aboard.

New York, Jan. 4 (UP)—Edward Maloney, ex-state trooper, ex-prohibition agent and more recently night club doorman, was charged today with the murder of Larry Fay, notorious racketeer and New York's public enemy No. 2.

Maloney surrendered last night saying he had been intoxicated for three straight days and did not remember anything. Police said cause of slaying was pay cut Fay had ordered at night club.

Tallahassee, Jan. 4 (UP)—State Board of Control has accepted resignation of Charlie Bachman as head football coach at University of Florida and recommended to President John J. Tigert the employment of an entirely new coaching staff.

Cherbourg, Jan. 4 (UP)—French liner Atlantique, recently installed in South American service, was on fire today 40 miles off this port with no passengers aboard. German steamer Rohr was taking off crew.

Jan. 4 (UP)—Washington State Department and foreign officers of European powers are anxious lest new military operations in China lead to a clash between Japanese or Chinese and foreign troops. Some officials here believe it altogether likely that Japan will now move into the Tientsin-Peiping area of North China. The State Department however plans to apply further gains in China to the "Non-recognition" policy in the case of Manchuria.

Marseilles, Jan. 4 (UP)—An S. O. S. signal was picked up by local wireless station today from the Greek steamer Alma, stating that she was in distress near Tenedos in the Dardanelles.

MUSIC COURSE WILL BE GIVEN

First Class Is To Meet On January 5

With the opening of the second term at Rollins College this week, the faculty of the Conservatory of Music will resume its presentation of the course in history and appreciation of music which has attracted such favorable comment since its inauguration in the fall. The meetings of this class will be held as usual in the Annie Russell Theatre every Thursday morning at 10:30, the first one in the new term to be held January 5th.

It is interesting to note that this course is focusing the attention of musicians all over the country on the Rollins Conservatory of Music. Two Orlando ladies first heard of it through a radio announcement coming from one of the Chicago radio stations, this being only one example of the gratifying reports that have been coming back to Winter Park. Mr. Harve Clemens, the head of the Conservatory, states that it is, to his knowledge, the only course of its elaborate scope to be given by a Conservatory. He explains that these lecture recitals differ from the usual course in history and appreciation of music, in that emphasis is placed on the hearing of great music performed in an artistic way, rather than the presentation of historical and biographical facts accompanied by musical illustrations at the piano or by means of phonograph records.

During the first term nearly every member of the Conservatory faculty appeared in solo performances and in chamber music groups, and the chapel choir assisted in one program, singing a

Laura Jane Neilson And John MacConnel Married December 29

Friends of Laura Jane Neilson of West Palm Beach and John Mac Connel of Hubbard Woods, Illinois, both students at Rollins last year, will be interested to learn of their marriage Thursday, December 29, at four o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride was attended by her sister, Renee, as maid of honor and Ricky Morrow was best man. Only members of the family and close friends attended the ceremony.

After their honeymoon the couple will make their home in Chicago where Mac is engaged in the manufacturing business with his father.

NEWMAN WRITES DRAMA REVIEW

Miss Matthison Presents Shakespeare Readings

By EVELYN NEWMAN

The closing dramatic event for the year 1932 at the Annie Russell Theatre needed to be of high artistic level indeed if it were to be comparable with the opening event of the season—Browning's "In a Balcony," so beautifully presented last spring. For the year's climax and finale Miss Russell gave us Miss Matthison and Shakespeare. Such a union was indeed a "marriage of true minds," and the result was an evening of pure magic when the interpreval was made to take on substance.

When the curtain rose one saw the stage hung with blue velvet, empty save for a single chair. When Miss Matthison entered, the tones of the velvet and the chair blended perfectly with the embroidered beauty of her gown and diaphanous draperies that accented every statuesque movement when she was the dignified Queen Katharine or added to her grace as the charming Rosalind.

The one-woman theatre is not overcrowded today. Ruth Draper and Cornelia Otis Skinner are unapproached in their line. Miss Draper's "Three Women and Mr. Clifford," is a drama, a psychological study unexcelled as an artistic production. Miss Skinner's "Wives of Henry the Eighth" is a masterpiece in historical research and accomplishment. But these women have fitted their own thoughts to their own expression. They have not mastered the greatest thought of genius and presented it as though it were their own. Miss Matthison has done so. She has mastered her master Will Shakespeare, has borrowed his Prospero's wand, and with it she performs miracles.

Her voice is a perfect instrument; her diction is a thing to conjure with, her every movement beautiful to look upon because it is inherent in the character she is portraying.

Jessie B. Rittenhouse Gives Poetry Course

Jessie Rittenhouse, well known poetess and winter resident of Winter Park, will give a course in the writing of poetry at Rollins during the winter term. Her classes will be the last period every Thursday morning. She plans to have a conference period every Tuesday afternoon so that the students may come to her with their work, for help and criticism.

Rollins Students to Give Musical Comedy Some Time in March

"Touchdowns of '32," the prospective musical comedy to be produced by Rollins some time in March, should, by all means, be a success if everyone will get in and work. There is a chance for almost every student at Rollins to show of what stuff he or she is made, either in the producing or business end of the show.

The cast will include approximately sixty-five people. There will be seventeen production numbers and possibly six or seven skits, lasting not longer than three minutes. These skits, it is hoped, will be written by some of the students about college life at dear old Rollins. Costumes for the show will be brought down from New York—they are all new and unusually attractive and original. In one waltz specialty a lovely lace gown will be used.

The show will be divided into quarters, the intermission being at the half, thus carrying the football idea to the end when the final gun goes off and the curtain comes down. There is no reason why this production should not be as successful as our football season—"Give 'em h—l, ROLLINS."

F. I. P. A. WILL CONVENE HERE

February 16, 17 and 18 Are Dates Set

Announcement that February 16, 17 and 18 will be the dates for the annual convention of the Florida Intercollegiate Press Association at which the Publications Union of Rollins will be host, has been released by Charles Bennett, president of the organization, a University of Florida student.

The association is composed of Florida State College For Women, University of Florida, University of Miami, Southern College, and Rollins College. This year a junior college division may be added.

In April, 1932, the annual convention was held at Tallahassee, Fla., with Florida State College for Women as host, and at this meeting Rollins was awarded two cups, one for the Sandspur as best college newspaper in Florida and one for the Tomokan, best annual. This year a new cup will be offered to the best literary magazine.

Judges for the competition have not been announced but it is expected that local men and women will assume responsibility for determining prize winners this year.

A committee appointed by the Publications Union, headed by Warren Apgar, will assume charge of local arrangements for the convention.

Other officers of the association are: Barbara Sabiston, F. S. C. W., vice-president, James H. Ottaway, Rollins, secretary, and Al DeBeis, Miami, treasurer.

Sara Teasdale Will Be in Winter Park For Three Months

Sara Teasdale, well known poetess, and author of "Rivers to the Sea," "Dark of the Moon," "Love Songs," and numerous others, will, for the next three months, be the guest of Jessie B. Rittenhouse on Henkle Circle.

Miss Teasdale is recovering from an illness developed while traveling abroad last summer. At the present time she is unable to see any of her many friends in Winter Park, but hopes to be able to do the near future.

At present Miss Teasdale is not engaged in any active literary work due to her recent illness, however, she has started work on the life and intimate sketches of Christina Rosetti.

Mr. J. French has been spending the last few days at the X Club as the guest of his son, Nathaniel.

JANUARY 31ST IS SET FOR CELEBRATION

Will Be In Honor Of Prince Murat, Pioneer Of Florida

As January 31st, 1933, is the one hundred and thirty-second anniversary of the birth of Prince Achille Murat, there will be a celebration in his honor on that date. The Prince was the pioneer citizen and philosopher of Florida. The main feature of the celebration will be an original play by Prof. Rhea Smith. The play is entitled "Prince Achille Murat." It will be presented in the Annie Russell Theatre. There will also be a display of a collection of documents. These have been gathered together with a number of books, which will also be on display, by Professor A. J. Hanna, head of the Florida History Department at Rollins.

Prince Murat was a nephew of Napoleon. His father, Joachin Murat, married Napoleon's sister, Caroline. He became one of Napoleon's generals and king of Naples. After his father's death, the Prince came to the United States and settled in Tallahassee. He soon became a "big" man in Tallahassee. He owned a plantation and was post-master and mayor of the town. He also took part in the Seminole wars and wrote several books on democracy in America. The Prince was a liberal. As his books were widely read in Europe, they caused quite an interest in the American experiment. Murat met Emerson on a boat coming from Boston to Jacksonville. The two struck up a close friendship; they seemed to have a mutual admiration for each other.

FIVE MEMBERS JOIN FACULTY

Rollins Winter Students To Have Wide Selection

Five special appointments to the faculty of Rollins College have been made to carry out the program of the Winter Term, which opens on Tuesday, January 3, it is announced.

Science, history, poetry, international relations and public health will be touched upon in the enlarged program of special courses arranged for the coming term. For this work, it is announced, President Hamilton Holt has appointed Dr. J. E. Spurr as professor of geology; Dr. Charles W. Stiles as professor of zoology; Jessie Rittenhouse Scollard as conference leader and consultant in the art of poetry writing; John Martin as conference leader and consultant on international relations; and Dr. Thomas Chalmers, of Boston University, as exchange professor of history.

Dr. Spurr, former geologist for the United States Geological Survey and to the Sultan of Turkey, and a former executive in several mining companies, will give a course in geology for beginning students and will conduct a seminar in political and commercial geology. This latter course will trace the effect of geology on human affairs, particularly in international relations.

Dr. Stiles, formerly medical director of the U. S. Public Health Service, and internationally known as zoologist, will give a survey course in biology and a course in public health zoology.

Jessie Rittenhouse, who will serve as consultant in poetry writing, was formerly secretary of the Poetry Society of America, organizer and president of the Poetry Society of Florida, and is the author of many well known books of verse.

Professor Martin is considered as an authority on international relations and was formerly executive director of the League for Political Action in New York City, a member of the Board of Education of Greater New York, and vice-president of the League of Nations Association of New York.

Matthison Recital Is Reviewed By Evelyn Newman

Edith Wynne Matthison I have seen many times through many years: in Everyman, The Piper, in Greek tragedy, as many of Shakespeare's heroines. Never have I seen her more completely satisfying in every detail of artistic and intellectual beauty than she was in this Shakespearean recital. It was a triumph of the years which art alone can show. In this realm spirit rules.

Miss Matthison's versatility and charm were proven over and over again in the delightful portrayals of Celia, Rosalind, and Orlando in the "Forest of Arden." She took advantage of every arch line in Rosalind's Epilogue to make fitting farewell of her own audience. They refused to accept it but applauded so long and vigorously that she reappeared and gave for final contribution that greatest of Shakespearean sonnets:

"Let me not to the marriage of true minds
Admit impediment. Love is not love
Which alters when it alteration finds
Or bends with the remover to remove."

(Sonnet CXVI)

And so for the closing gift of the year, for the gift of the glory of Edith Wynne Matthison's art wedded to the glory of Shakespeare's thought, we all once more thank Miss Russell with grateful hearts.

MARY THE EIGHTH

MARY JANE MCKAY

Mary Jane McKay, a freshman student at Rollins this year, and daughter of former Mayor D. B. McKay of Tampa, is the eighth member of the same family to attend Rollins College.

Five of the McKay children were graduated, one attended two years, and Celestine McKay is in her third year at Rollins.

Seven of the eight who attended Rollins are girls.

NINETEEN PASS DIVISION BOARD

New Plan Is In Second Year At Rollins

Nineteen students were admitted to the Upper Division during the fall term.

This is the second year of the New Plan at Rollins. It was inaugurated in 1931. At that time all students were given a choice of continuing under the old plan or entering the new system. All new students automatically come under the New Plan. After fulfilling the general requirements of the Lower Division, students appear before the board of admissions to the Upper Division and are permitted to specialize in their major interest after entering the Upper Division.

DANCES GIVEN DURING HOLIDAYS

Rollins Students Attend Many Affairs

Rollins students spending the holidays at the college and those living in Orlando enjoyed the many dances in Orlando and Winter Park sponsored by the various clubs and fraternal organizations throughout the Christmas weeks.

The holiday season was opened by the Pi Beta Phi dance Monday, December 19, at the Orlando Country Club. This was followed by the Charity Ball on Tuesday, the Omega Xi dance Wednesday, the Orlando Country Club dinner dance Thursday and the Demolay dance Friday.

After a short lull over Christmas week-end the Tri Delta dance was held Monday, December 26. The Triangle Rhythm Kings furnished music for all these dances.

Thursday brought the next big dance in Orlando with the Battle of Music between the Tampa Night Hawks and Gil Jackson's orchestra.

The I. B. S. dance on New Year's eve with Roy Hamilton and his Royal Southerners closed the two full weeks of holiday dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Richards spent the Christmas holidays in Winter Park with their daughter, Betsy Richards.

Mr. C. A. Gowdy returned to Winter Park with his son, Jimmy, to remain indefinitely. Mr. Gowdy is a guest at the Hamilton Hotel.

ROLLINS SCENE OF K. A. CONVENTION

Delegates From Ten Chapters To Meet Here

Alpha Psi Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order will be host to the annual convention of the John L. Hardeman Province to be held at Rollins College on January 6 and 7, 1933, it is announced. Delegates are expected to attend from ten chapters located at University of Georgia, Emory University, Mercer University, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Birmingham-Southern College, University of Alabama, Georgia Institute of Technology, Oglethorpe University, and Florida University.

The program will include a model initiation in Knowles Memorial Chapel, a banquet in the Rollins Chapter House, and a formal dance. The Rollins committee includes Donald C. Fisher, Webster Groves, Mo., Philip W. Horton, Peekskill, N. Y., and Robert L. Stevenson, Orlando, Fla.

Bishop Henry J. Mikell, Atlanta, Ga., Knight Commander, is expected to officiate at the Model Initiation. William E. Dunwoody, Macon, Ga., Province Commander, and Paul Speake, Atlanta, Ga., traveling secretary, are also expected to attend.

The Kappa Alpha Order was founded in 1865 at Washington and Lee University for the purpose of "upholding the standards of the Southern Gentleman." It now comprises 68 chapters all of which are located south of the Mason-Dixon Line. The host chapter, Alpha Psi, was founded in 1927.

Music Course Will Be Held This Term In Russell Theatre

Each chorale and numbers by Palestrina. Perhaps the climax was reached in the presentation of the brilliant and little heard "Concerto for piano and violin with string quartet," by Chausson, at the last meeting. Each recital is carefully prepared and the brief program notes are intended only to aid the listener in his appreciation of the music.

On January 5th, the program will include a sketching of the course by Mr. Clemens, piano compositions of Bach and Brahms by Mr. C. O. Homan, and a group of Schubert songs by Mr. Bruce Dougherty. There will also be an assignment of reading material for those who are taking the course for college credit.

The course has been opened to people outside the College who wish to attend only as auditors, at a very nominal fee, and everyone interested is urged to enroll at the Dean's office and secure an auditor's card before the new series begins. It is necessary to be on time, as the doors will be closed immediately upon the beginning of each program.

Woman's Club Holds Dance Last Tuesday

One of the outstanding social events of the Christmas season in Winter Park was the dance given by the Woman's Club on Tuesday evening, December 27, from 9 until 12 o'clock, honoring the younger set of Winter Park and Orlando.

Many students from the University of Florida, the State College for Women and Rollins who were in the vicinity at the time attended.

Music for dancing was furnished by Bob Tinnon and his Orchestra and refreshments of coffee and cakes were served.

Myra Thomas Gives Tea Last Tuesday

Myra Thomas entertained at tea on Tuesday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock, honoring her step-sister, Miss Rosamund Lockwood, a senior at Mt. Holyoke who is spending the Christmas holidays as her guest.

The rooms were decorated with red candles and poinsettias and refreshments of green and white carried out the color scheme.

Miss Thomas was assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Lynch and Mrs. Harry Kelly.

Rollins Sandspur

Published Weekly By Students Of Rollins

Established in 1894 with the following editorial: "Unassuming yet mighty, sharp and pointed, well-rounded yet many sided, assiduously tenacious, yet as gritty and energetic as its name implies, victorious in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive and extensive in circulation: all these will be found upon investigation to be among the extraordinary qualities of the Sandspur."

TENTATIVE PLANS FOR MUSICAL COMEDY PROGRESSING

The tentative plans for the all-college musical comedy are progressing. To date, with the exception of Dr. Holt's, all necessary approval has been obtained.

Dick Gago, who has had five years experience in this line, has agreed to direct the production. Miss Annie Russell has very graciously given the theatre for the three nights scheduled for the performance —March 16, 17 and 18.

We are so enthused about the whole idea that we are sure all those who have not heard about it before will feel as we do. In the first place it is only too true that there is very little after the football season ends which interests the entire student body. This production will keep about 100 people busy and rehearsals will be open to everyone until the last week. It will give a great many people something to do in the evenings but it will in no way interfere with classes. All rehearsals will be over at ten o'clock except for two dress rehearsals.

Tryouts will be open to everyone and politics will be definitely eliminated. There is just as much, if not more, talent among the non-fraternity students as among the Greeks. Regardless of affiliations anyone with talent will be given an opportunity. The director does not know and does not want to know who is an Alpha Beta or a Beta Alpha. This is to be an all-college affair with petty differences forgotten. The director alone will pick out the final cast after two principal tryouts and two chorus tryouts.

Besides giving the students something to do, it is hoped and expected that through this production a good student orchestra will be worked up. There is plenty of latent talent on the campus and at some colleges the student orchestras are so popular that they play at almost all the dances.

In the second place we think that an organization on the order of the Princeton Triangle Club will grow from the Rollins musical comedy.

In the third place, if door receipts turn out as well as expected, some donation will be turned over to the Student Aid Fund.

To be really successful and to achieve all the results hoped for, this enterprise will need the co-operation of the entire student body. We do not think this will be difficult as it is the students who are benefitting from it. We feel sure that the students are agreed on the subject. In the December 7 issue of the Sandspur, one student expressed himself on the subject. Some one is always crying for "something different to do." We have heard students complain that they are tired of movies and contract. Here is their chance. A musical comedy will make history in the annals of Rollins and everyone will want to be a part.

The Kappa benefit was a huge success. It was something new and different and the novelty delighted everyone. Therefore we can see no reason why an all-college affair of the same sort would not be a success on a bigger scale with more people involved.

We predict more and better musical comedies for Rollins from now on.

SANDSPUR WISHES ALL A VERY HAPPY NEW YEAR

And now it is 1933 in spite of the fact that it is very difficult to write it without stopping to think about it first. Most of us who have made New Year's resolutions have broken or forgotten them.

As usual at the beginning of the term we are all saying "no more dates except on week-ends" or "no more cutting" but from experience we know that such conduct will not last long.

Instead of our usual collegiate resolutions, it might be a good idea to make them a little more general. The condition of the present day world is such that one cannot live to himself alone.

College students are apt to be selfish. It is very easy to forget with parents miles away that they are making sacrifices to keep us here. We might resolve now to make fewer demands on the family purse during the next year.

Most of us forget that in spite of our faults our families are rather fond of us. We're fond of them, of course, though most people would never recognize the act by the way we neglect to write. That's a tip for another resolution.

We are told that the world is recovering slowly from the depression. People say that we are entering 1933 with courage which was lacking in 1932 and the preceding years.

Quite a responsibility rests with college students. To be sure it is difficult to see this when most of the graduates of the last two or three years are still looking for jobs. Still it is up to us to carry on until conditions improve.

So we wish you all a very happy and prosperous new year.

ROLLINS WILL BE HOST TO F. I. P. A. IN FEBRUARY

(Not written by the Editor)

In February of this year the annual convention of the Florida Intercollegiate Press Association will be held in Winter Park with the Publications Union of Rollins College as host.

At this annual meeting award is announced of winners of first prizes for the best annual, literary magazine and newspaper in the colleges of Florida, and cups are presented. This year marks the first time that a cup will be offered to the best literary magazine.

It is worthwhile to remember the convention of 1932 held in Tallahassee, Florida, at the Florida State College for Women at which Rollins won all cups offered, the Tomokan, our annual, being adjudged the best year book in the State and the Sandspur, weekly newspaper, being declared the best newspaper in the State. Later on the Sandspur won an All-American rating in competition among weeklies throughout the United States. In this contest only six papers were given this rating, and the Florida Flambeau, Tallahassee State College's paper, was one. In State competition the Sandspur was given first prize over the Flambeau and other State college newspapers.

Rollins has progressed with great strides in journalistic and literary lines in the past few years, and it now boasts a high class literary magazine, the Flamingo, edited by Betty Childs; the Tomokan, the annual, edited this year by Boyd Kymer; and the Sandspur, weekly newspaper.

Rollins has every reason to be proud of the success of her publications, and credit is due to not only student editors but to members of the faculty who have aided in their progress.

Prof. Wattles has been the "foster parent" of the Sandspur for many years; Prof. Grover has aided the Flamingo from its inception, and Prof. Wunsch is adviser this year.

The Rollins Publication Union, organized by Dean Winslow A. Anderson, has been pushed through tough spots through the help of Professors Wattles, Harris and Grover, and particularly through the work of E. T. Brown, Rollins treasurer, and secretary of the Union for many years.

This year Ralph Clark, publicity director of Rollins, has been added to the board as an honorary member.

The Union is composed of the following members: Professors Wattles, Grover and Harris, and Mr. Brown; James H. Ottaway, chairman; Doris Lang, George Barber, Robert Barber, Martha Davenport, Robert Black, Marion Marrow, Betty Childs, Warren Agnar, Boyd Kymer and Wallace Child.

PUNCH A TIME CLOCK

(Daily Trojan)

An appreciation of the value of time is one of the most important assets college students can have. It is usually found that those who realize the significance of the fleeting minutes and keep a close estimate on them turn out to be the young men and women who lead the best balanced lives. In punching as they do, their mental time-clocks, they manage to get a full course of study, enter into campus activities, enjoy social affairs, and still set aside a definite daily period for leisure and rest.

This ability to budget the hours on campus as a business man would budget his books, comes from a consciousness of responsibility to oneself. It's not whether a student spends all morning in the library pouring over print, or sits up all night boning over an assignment that is to be considered, but rather how quickly and effectively the work was done within the least required time. The secret of making one's university days well-rounded and pleasurable lies a great deal in knowing how to apportion the minutes advantageously so that one may experience all sides to campus life. After all, it isn't the hours that are put in but what is put into the hours that counts.

A DEFENSE

(St. Louis News)

Men and women in our American Universities are not, as the comic strips, movies and theatre would like to portray them, light-headed, shilly-shally idlers who spend their time in speakeasies or in idolizing athletic heroes. But rather are they, for the most part, students whose minds are occupied with subjects far more serious perhaps than are those of their critics.

Outsiders see us only as we are when we attend football games or social affairs, but who can blame us for becoming enthusiastic when our teams are winning or for enjoying ourselves at a dance? Would not anyone of our age, unless he were exceptional or unnatural, act just as we act under the circumstances? At those times, we should not be classified as college students, but merely as young men and young women.

When we are in the classroom, at a time when our critics never see us, then we may be called college or university students. Outsiders never see us during our recesses between classes when we get together and discuss our studies and other important problems than the great majority of them will never be able to discuss.

Of course, there are exceptions to this rule, there are so-called "college boys" in our midst, but you will find idlers or shirkers in every walk of life.

The scathing criticism to which we are subjected prompts us to ask whether our censors are actuated by jealousy or whether they are just guilty of rash judgment.

BOOKS

By H. ALLEN SMITH
United Press Book Editor

One of our most vivid book memories in recent years is "The Case of Sergeant Grischa," published in America about five years ago. Now comes another volume from Arnold Zweig, "Young Woman of 1914" (Viking). Like "Grischa," it makes immense reading.

The new book comes before "Grischa" in time. Another, yet to be completed, will precede this one and then a fourth will make up the last volume in the series. This Zweig has chosen to turn his war story out in this order: volume three, volume two, volume one, and volume four. That may be art but it looks cubistic from here.

Yet there can be no quarrel with "Young Woman of 1914." It is a complete novel in itself. Those who read "Grischa" will recall the clerk, Werner Bertin. This is his story and the story of Lenore Wahl. It is a story of love in the Germany of 1914-15, before Bertin went from Verdun to the Eastern Front to play his little part in the tragedy of Sergeant Grischa.

It is a fine story, as exquisitely done as was "Grischa." Zweig already has proved that, of the German war novelists, he marches in front.

Similar in form to Vicki Baum's "Grand Hotel," the action of Sigurd Hoel's "One Day in October," Norwegian prize novel (Coward McCann) takes place in 24 hours and concerns the destinies of the occupants of a middle-class apartment building in Oslo.

It revolves about a young wife who has left her husband and shows the psychopathic reactions of half a dozen families and as many single persons when she is thrust into their midst.

THE WORLD VIEWED AT ROLLINS

By EGJ

of the motives underlying the words of each; that the two most important men in the nation failed to reach any agreement whatever, however slight, augurs badly for the state not only of the affairs of the United States economic system, but those of the entire world.

The furore created by the recent publication of the novel and production of the motion picture entitled, "I Am a Fugitive From a Chain Gang," reached a new high point with the decision of Governor Harry Moore of New Jersey that the requisition calling for the extradition of Author Robert Elliott Burns was unjustified and unworthy of his official acceptance.

Burns, the writer who astounded the people of many more states than Georgia with his authoritative expose of the prison's treatment of its inmates in that state, where he was convicted for a five-dollar theft, had engineered two successful escapes from a chain gang, and following the second, had entered private life as a respectable citizen in New Jersey. He was discovered there, and extradition proceedings were immediately instituted to permit his return to the Georgia state penitentiary.

The trial included a statement from the victim of the robbery, the affense which caused the prison career of the accused, to the effect that he did not think Burns should go back to a chain gang.

Governor Russell of Georgia, when advised of Governor Moore's decision, recalled with forceful language the Lindbergh kidnaping case, saying that it was "easy to understand how it could occur and go unpunished in a state whose Governor had such ideas of law." The New Jersey executive, not to be outdone, wished his legal opponent a Merry Christmas and referred him respectfully to the Fuller case, in which Governor Russell had refused extradition to New York authorities for an ex-convict in his state, on the grounds that the prosecution projected by New York was an attempt to collect a private debt.

Three House Dances Held During Holidays

Three home dances were given by the members of Kappa Phi Sigma for the students left in Winter Park during the vacation. Music for dancing was furnished by Ben Bernie, Guy Lombardo and Paul Whiteman through the means of radios placed in the far corners of the living room and on the lawn.

Chaperones for these events were: Mrs. Edith Tadd Little, Mrs. E. N. Gage, Mrs. Haggerty and her son and Mrs. Enwright.

CHALMERS WINS INTRA-MURAL CROSS-COUNTRY MEET

COACHES PLAN ATHLETICS FOR SECOND TERM

Intra-mural Contests Will Be Held In Tennis, Basketball And Volleyball

During the first three weeks of the winter term there will be held the annual intra-mural tennis tournament. Each person entering this tournament will represent some organization or dormitory on the campus, and the respective groups of the winners will be awarded points toward the intra-mural trophy which is given each year. Fifty points will be awarded each group which has a team of six men representing it. Fifty points will be given the group whose entrant wins the tennis championship and twenty-five points will be given for second place. Five points will also be awarded for each match which is won. Last year Dave Horowitz won the singles championship while Robert Dunbar was second. Childs and Dunbar won the doubles championship while Ted Walton and Bill Miller were the runnersup.

The basketball league will start during the second week of the term. Points will be awarded each organization which has a team in the league, and points will be given for each game that is won, as well as additional points for the winners of the league. The winners will receive one hundred points toward the intra-mural trophy while those in second place will have fifty. During the winter term of 1932 the X Club won the basketball. This year, with nearly all the same men representing it, the X Club is favored to repeat its former success. However, Kappa Alpha, with several pledges who have starred in this sport elsewhere, should have a very close race with the favorites.

The main intra-mural interest in February will be the volley-ball contests. The points awarded for this sport are the same as those given for basketball. Last year Kappa Phi Sigma won the tournament while the X Club took second place. This year, however, there should be some very interesting games because nearly all of the campus organizations will have new men playing on their teams.

Intra-mural golf will start in March and continue through the spring term. Four men will represent each group, and a match play tournament will be held, the scoring being on the same general lines as that for tennis. Because of the fact that all varsity golf players will be unable to compete in the intra-murals, there should be some very close competition in the March tournament.

Physical Education Registration For Men

In order to register for physical education and receive College credit for the work a student must:

1. Sign a course card with the registrar.

2. Go to the physical education office (306 Lyman) and select a sport, (intra-mural or class) and be registered for the term.

3. In order to receive credit for physical education a student must be actually engaged in some sport during the whole term. If a student wishes to take part in an intra-mural sport that doesn't begin at the opening of a term, he must transfer to the intra-mural sport when it starts. When the intra-mural sport is completed he must transfer into some other activity until the end of the term.

4. Physical education is required of every male student, old or new plan, unless he is pronounced fit by the department and excused. That means every male student must go to the department of physical education and register for some activity or be excused.

BRIGHT PROSPECT FOR 1933 SPORTS

Successful Seasons Foreseen In Golf and Tennis

Varsity tennis and golf will start at the beginning of the winter term and continue through the remainder of the school year. Although the schedules for these two sports have not been completed as yet, the first golf match of the year will take place on Saturday, January 28, at the Sanford Country Club. A team composed of six men from Rollins will meet a similar team from Stetson University. No group of players has been picked yet by Coach Evans to represent the college, but from all early season aspects, this year's outfit should be one of Rollins' strongest. Dexter Ward and Ben Kahnz, both members of last year's team, will no doubt represent the blue and gold in 1933. Two new men who have had much success in Florida tournaments in the past are Johnny Brown and Ike Merrill. The latter was a member of the 1932 team at the University of Florida, while Brown starred on the team at Miami Senior High School. Bill Miller and Bob Eock have also played very well during the fall term. With this apparent abundance of material Coach Evans should have very little trouble in selecting a strong aggregation.

The Varsity baseball candidates will report at some date late in February. Many of the members of last year's team are still in college. At the present time there seems to be excellent prospects for Rollins sports, both varsity and intra-mural, to be extremely successful throughout the coming year.

Coming as a surprise to the many friends of Harvey Ford is the news of his marriage to Miss Natalie Howard, a student at Ohio State University. The ceremony was held at high noon today at the home of the bride's parents with only the immediate families and close friends in attendance.

Miss Susan G. Ames of Nutley, New Jersey, has been visiting her sister, Molly Ames, at Pugsley Hall during the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. A. W. Foster of Greenville, South Carolina, has been spending the last week in Winter Park visiting her daughter, Caroline Foster.

Review of 1932 Football Season; Predominant Players are Found in Lines; Pittsburgh Chosen to go to West Coast.

Dazzling and disconcerting changes of pace stunned experts and fans alike in the 1932 football season. Teams seemed to reach a peak, only to slump a week or so later. Such a state of affairs made the season spectacular from start to finish, with coaches, players, spectators, and the writers working up continual headaches trying to figure out just what was coming next.

The predominance of great linesmen made the defensive play of the leading teams the great feature of the year. Strong backs were numerous, but the outstanding players of the year were to be found in the forward walls.

Strong teams wound up their seasons with blots on their records, due to unwieldly schedules. Pittsburg, the first team to defeat Notre Dame during the year, played two scoreless ties against Ohio State and Nebraska. Alabama Polytechnic Institute, needing a victory over South Carolina for a Southern Conference title, ended with a 20 to 20 tie, and had to share the honors. Purdue hit phenomenal figures in yardage gained, but a tie with Northwestern kept the Boilermakers out of a tie with Michigan in the Big Ten race.

Of the so-called major elevens in the country Colgate, Michigan, and Southern California seemed to be outstanding, although Colgate ran undefeated and untied through a schedule which did not compare with the weekly grind the Wolverines and Trojans had to meet.

Army and Pittsburgh shared with Colgate the distinction of being the best in the east, although Colgate's record carried no stretch of tie or defeat.

Notre Dame started strong, collapsed against Pittsburgh, found itself to defeat Army, and then weakened again against Southern California.

Alabama Poly and Tennessee led in the South, but each had a tie on its record. Texas Christian topped the Southwestern field. Nebraska headed the Big Six and had a tie with Pitt late in the season, although defeat by Minnesota ruined the Huskers record. Utah again led in the Rocky Mountain conference.

Southern California, with a team that Howard Jones did not care to brag about much, managed to get through several close games and then improved to beat Notre Dame.

The renewal of regular relations between Army and Navy was a colorful feature of the season with the Army winning easily.

Attendance figures fell off in many section, but the winning teams drew heavily at reduced prices. Crises occurred in all sections of the country when attempts were made to balance the books and in a large number of colleges curtailment of minor sports came about when football revenue fell off.

Pittsburgh, although tied twice, was the fortunate college to receive the invitation to play Southern California in the annual Tournament of Roses contest at Pasadena on January 2, when it appeared that Michigan and Colgate had the inside track for the game.

Amos Alonzo Stagg, 70-year-old University of Chicago coach and a vital figure in the game for forty years, was deposed because of a retirement regulation. Major Frank Cavanaugh lost out at Fordham. Glenn S. (Pop) Warner resigned at Stanford to accept a position at Temple University of Philadelphia. Mal Stevens quit at Yale after an extremely unsuccessful season. These were but a few of the more important changes.

Most notable of the players developed during the year were: Smith, Southern California tackle; Moss, Purdue end; Newman, Michigan quarterback; Kurth, Notre Dame tackle; Smith, Colgate guard; Skladany, Pittsburgh end; Boswell, Texas Christian tackle; Sommerfelt, Army guard; Krueger, Marquette center.

Alfred J. Hanna, associate professor of history at Rollins College, was initiated as an honorary member of the Loyal Knights of America, Spanish secret order, at a special meeting in Tampa last Wednesday night.

Orville McDonald of Sioux City, Iowa, a former Rollins graduate, visited the campus during the holidays. He was accompanied by Mrs. McDonald, who has been visiting her daughter in Leesburg this fall.

MIAMI SCENE OF GOLF TOURNAMENT

That "rara avis," the left-handed golfer, who goes into reverse to emulate the Jones, Sarasons, and Somervilles in their favorite diversion, will have his day at Miami this winter, and the assurance that for a week, at least, the season on him will be closed.

He is invited to hook or slice from the port side, glare down any stray professionals and conduct his own sport clinic from January 16 until the twenty-first at the first annual Winter Left-Handed Golf Championship, under the auspices of the Florida Year-Round Clubs.

The tournament is one of the many golf events scheduled at the Florida Year-Round Clubs. It also is the outgrowth of the unique organization formed at Columbus, Ohio, several months ago by Everett G. Livesay, a top rank, left-handed golfer, who, after holding state and district titles, organized the American Left-handed Golfers Association on the principal that any man who can perform a manual feat better with one hand than with the other, can do the same thing in golf. The left-handers have drawn thousands to their banner and the competition will be the first national round-up of the strangest bird in the golf aviary. More than 3,500 left-handers have been invited to take part.

The tournament will be a match play event, conducted along the same general lines as last summer's United States Amateur championship at Five Farms, Baltimore.

The American Left-Handers Golf Association, comprising several hundred members, includes Babe Ruth, as honorary president, and many other noted figures of sport and American industry.

Re-elected for Fourth Time

Burlington, Vt. (UP)—James E. Burke, 85, six times mayor of Burlington, has been re-elected to the state legislature for the fourth time.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fuller, of Winter Park, Rollins alumni, have announced the birth of a daughter, Judith Pratt Fuller, on Wednesday, December 28. Mrs. Fuller will be remembered as Helen Foley.

Tickets for Golf at The Sanlando Club Are Now Available

The Rollins College Athletic Association has been fortunate in securing a number of season tickets for golf at the Sanlando Country Club. This is an eighteen-hole course located at a short distance from Winter Park on the road to Sanford. It has many rolling fairways and a large number of natural hazards and is now in excellent condition.

Already a number of the faculty and student body have taken advantage of this opportunity. However, there are still some season tickets left. These may be had at extremely reasonable rates at the Treasurer's Office. As there is a very limited supply of passes, all students who are interested are urged to see Mr. Ward or Mr. McDowall as soon as possible.

Gold Footballs Will Be Given to Entire Squad on Honor Day

At a recent meeting of the Student Council last term it was voted to give each member of the Rollins squad a gold football. These are to be presented on Honors Day which this year will be January 12, 1933. The footballs are small with a blue R on them. Beside the R is the year 1932. On the backs are engraved the owner's name and the position which he played on this year's undefeated eleven.

The following men will be presented these footballs on Honors Day: William Morris, T., J. Morris, Ed Cruger, Jack Sutherland, George Rogers, Charles Sealover, Linton Malone, Tommy Thompson, Stu Meese, Dan Cantini, Tourtellotte, Bud Childs, Jack Fisher, Will Rogers, John Doyle, Tommy Evans, Phil Horton, Don Fisher, Dick Washington, Ray Miller, Managers Stan Todd and Bob Toelle, and Coaches Colado, McDowall and Evans.

Miss Mary B. Woodward of Brooklyn, New York, has been spending the past week in Winter Park visiting her niece, Ruth B. Hart.

Bill Rice, '30, and Dorothy Snook, '31, were married in St. Petersburg Wednesday, December 28, at four o'clock. The couple will make their home in Bradenton where Bill is teaching.

CHASE RUNNERS TAKE FIRST IN ANNUAL EVENT

Whitelaw, Washington And Malone Also Place In Race Last Term

Chase Hall was the winner in the intra-mural cross-country meet held on Wednesday, December 14, placing one man, Doug Chalmers, first and Linton Malone fourth. Chalmers led the field of thirty-one runners throughout the entire three-mile course, which led from the Horseshoe down Chase avenue, along Lake Forest Drive, and around Lake Osceola. The finish of the meet was in front of Lyman Hall.

Not far behind the winner was Aubrey Whitelaw, representing Kappa Phi Sigma, who placed second in the race. Whitelaw, running the course for the first time, covered it in eighteen minutes and twelve seconds, only about a half minute behind the leader, whose time was seventeen minutes and twenty-five seconds. The favorite of the meet, Dick Washington, running for Delta Rho Gamma, came in third in eighteen minutes and thirty-one seconds. The fourth place was taken by Linton Malone, another Chase Hall runner, who managed to nose out Galbraith of Rollins Hall in a last minute spurt. This final effort gave Chase Hall the winners, one hundred and thirty-five points to ninety-five for Kappa Phi Sigma. The other five entrants in the meet all had scores of about fifty points. They were Theta Kappa Nu, Kappa Alpha, Delta Rho Gamma, the X Club, and Rollins Hall.

The results of this meet will leave the X Club in the lead in the intra-mural sports, but Kappa Phi Sigma and Chase Hall are left close behind the leaders.

The first twelve men to finish are listed as follows:

Chalmers—Chase Hall
Whitelaw—Kappa Phi Sigma
Washington—Delta Rho Gamma
Malone—Chase Hall
Galbraith—Rollins Hall
Shannon—Rho Lambda Nu
Mills—Kappa Phi Sigma
W. Morris—X Club
Rothe—Chase Hall
Newton—Chase Hall
Pepper—Theta Kappa Nu
J. Morse—Delta Rho Gamma
